

Scottish Competition Law Forum

Making markets work in devolved contexts

11 April 2008, 9am-11.45am

Host University of Strathclyde

Venue Court Senate Suite,
University of Strathclyde
22 Richmond Street
Glasgow

Overview The Spring SCLF discussion is a timely contribution to consideration of how Scotland best takes opportunities to promote its economic success. The role of markets and competition, and operation of competition frameworks at different levels of governance, will be explored with experts from central and devolved authorities.

There will be opportunity to hear the perspectives of central and devolved authorities and to join in discussion about the impact of different models on consumers, business, the economy and governance.

The seminar will be chaired by Iain McMillan, Director of CBI Scotland.

Programme

TIME	EVENT
09:00	Registration
09:10	Welcome from Barry Rodger, University of Strathclyde
09:15	Introduction by the Chairman, Iain McMillan, Director of CBI Scotland
09:25	Presentation by John Fingleton, Chief Executive of the OFT
09:45	Presentation by Cristina Pellise de Urquiza, member of the Catalan Competition Tribunal
10:05	Presentation by Eleanor Gill, Chief Executive of the Consumer Council for Northern Ireland
10:25	Tea/Coffee
10:45	Panel discussion with Fod Barnes (Oxera Consulting), Martyn Evans (Director of the Scottish Consumer Council), Catriona Munro (Maclay Murray & Spens) and our principal speakers
11:45	Close

WWW.SCOTCOMP.ORG.UK

For more information please email info@scotcomp.org.uk